Employment Law; Appellant sued Appellee for breach of contract, tortious interference with contract, wrongful discharge, retaliation in violation of KRS 342.197, age discrimination, and perceived disability discrimination. During a pre-trial conference, the trial court considered Appellee's motion for summary judgment, gave reasons verbally on the record for its decision regarding the motion and response, then granted summary judgment as to all Appellant's claims. Appellant appeals, arguing genuine issues of material fact exist requiring reversal of the judgment.
